

DECLARATION OF CONFORMITY WITH ISO/IEC 17043:2023

Microanalitica Srl unipersonale is an independent company that organises proficiency testing (PT) to help laboratories monitor the quality of their test results over time.

Microanalitica Srl implements and maintains a management system, overseen by the quality manager, suitable for the assessment of proficiency testing (PT) in accordance with the requirements of ISO/IEC 17043:2023.

The Microanalitica Srl quality management system is documented through the quality manual, procedures and record forms.

Microanalitica Srl's proficiency testing activities consist of planning all processes that directly affect PT quality, preparing test material, checking the homogeneity and stability of test samples, performing statistical analysis and providing participants with the final report containing the performance assessment.

The company website www.microanalitica.eu provides all the information laboratories need to participate in PT, including confidentiality information, registration arrangements, test methods and techniques to apply, registration deadlines, test sample dispatch dates, result submission times, statistical analysis methods and delivery dates for interlaboratory testing reports containing performance assessments.

Microanalitica Srl is listed on the EPTIS website: www.eptis.bam.de

The Legal Representative of Microanalitica Srl unipersonale assumes full responsibility for this declaration.
